

2008 MINI CONFERENCES

For 19 years, Gateway Rehabilitation Center has been offering free half-day mini conferences to healthcare and other interested professionals that provide quality training and education about addiction and related treatment issues. Gateway is pleased to present the following programs for August - December, 2008.

“Ethics in Chemical Dependency—Values in Action”

Presenter: James L. Aiello, M.A., M.Ed.

Friday, August 22, 2008 – 9:00 a.m.-12:00 Noon

() Check if attending

This workshop will focus on areas where ethical decision making comes into play for the professional counselor. These areas will include confidentiality, clinical and professional boundary setting, and how to resolve ethical conflicts in the workplace.

“From Risk to Resiliency: A Different Perspective on Creating Safe and Caring Environments for Young People”

Presenter: Penny Senyak, M.Ed.

Friday, September 19, 2008 – 9:00 a.m.-12:00 Noon

() Check if attending

Resiliency is a simple concept, but a very powerful tool for changing the paradigm for working with youth. It supports the hopeful premise that adults can really play a significant role in the lives of young people by building relationships and using resiliency as the underlying framework for schools, social service programs, and communities to be involved in that change.

“Using Ericksonian Hypnosis and Neuro-linguistic Programming in a Therapeutic Setting”

Presenter: Laura Roman, LCSW, BCD – Certified Hypnotherapist

Friday, November 21, 2008 – 9:00 a.m.-12:00 Noon

() Check if attending

This workshop will focus on the hypnosis work of Milton H. Erickson and the linguistic work of Richard Bandler and Dr. John Grinder. Participants will gain an understanding of what hypnosis and NLP are, what they are not, and the applications for these modalities in a therapeutic setting. Although this is not a formal training course, techniques will be demonstrated and participants will be given the opportunity for individual practice.

“Introduction to Problem and Pathological Gambling”

Presenter: John D. Massella, Ph.D.

Friday, December 5, 2008 – 9:00 a.m.-12:00 Noon

() Check if attending

This training will take a general look at problem and pathological gambling, describing the two types—Alpha and Beta. It will give an overview of the myths and facts, and signs and symptoms.

Mini Conferences are held at Gateway's Center Twp. location. Directions on reverse side.
